Town Delegates Confer With Gov't. Ministers

LAC LA BICHE.—A deputation from the village council met with the Minister of Education and the Minister of Municipal Affairs in Edmonton on Tuesday morning, May 16th, in reference to the increased school requisition for 1950.

The purpose of the meeting was to secure if possible a reduction which would bring the amount to at least the level of last year, namely $13,320, in other words a reduction of the increase, $2,437. Every courtesy was shown the deputation but no assurance was given, after a lengthy discussion, that any change could be made in the amount demanded.

A start has been made with sidewalk construction and that part of Alberta avenue from the hotel west to connect at he B & L sore is well on the way. This work is done by the council employing day labor, and not by contract. The satisfactory results of last year recommended this procedure.

The clean-up activity shows results, but there are too many unsightly spots still requiring attention. With the big sports day on May 24h, citizens are urged to do what they can to make the village attractive.

Legion Celebrates VE Day Anniversary

LAC LA BICHE.—Monday, May 8th was a very successful date insofar as the local branch of the Canadian Legion was concerned. It was on this day that members of this branch from every part of the district gathered at the club for the stag to commemorate the fifh anniversary of VE Day. In rue Legion style, the boys with the old spirit of cameradie asd esprit de corps, did justice to the importance of the occasion. There was the usual sing-song and to have been present that night and listened to the zij and enthusiasf thrown into this phase of the celebration, one would be inclined to think that perhaps this was V-E Day's first birthday. Suffice to say, we all hope every one wil remember this date and that in the years to come the club may still be the centre of more happy meetings of the same type.

The branch, feeling as most other Canadians do at the home, has extended sympathy to the flood stricken populace at Winnipeg and southern Manitoba. At an executive meeting held earlier this week it was decided that the proceeds of the dance held in the Legion hall on Saturday of this week would be forwarded in their entirety to the Winnipeg flood relief fund. Rev. Fr. McGrane, in conjunction with the branch, has also very kindly donated the gross receipts from show to be held in the theatre on the same date. So come one, come all folks and let us make a real showing for these poor people in Manitoba. It is pointed out here, that to make a contribution to this very worthy cause, you may also leave cash or cheques a the theatre or dance.

Another topic of discussion last week at the club was the veterans' plot in the local cemetery. Comrade Jack Williams had made an inspection of this ground and he is of the opinion that it could be tidied up a bit. We propose to band together a small body of volunteers to form a fatigue parade, so to speak, and see what kind of a showing can be made in this spot. Any member who feels he would be willing to assist on this project may do so by leaving his name at the club or with comrades Kelly or fellows, be seeing you around, eh?

CUPS TO MATCH

Dear Sir—Anyone want to go in with me on a sure-fire business? It's a wonderful idea! We could manufacture cups to go with all those flying saucers.

MARRIED WOMEN WORKING

Dear Sir—In a recent issue you ran an article on 'Skid Load'; an article which certainly makes a person think, and wonder as to what can be done to correct such conditions.

The article mentioned a young country girl who had been laid off as a store clerk and whose condition was rather pitiful as a result.

The other day I was in Edmonton and couldn't help noticing the number of married women employed as clerks in most all the stores. Now that work is not so plentiful I think it's up to the employers to give young single girls preference over married women.

I may add I've no young person of my own looking for work so I'm not writing out of personal grudge.

COLOR AND CREED

Dear Sir—Most people are what they are because they inherit such things from their parents. If you are brought up to certain politics or religion, the chances are that's what you'll be when you grow up.

If your parents are colored you also will be. The same applies to any other race. We just don't have any choice in the matter. Just remember you made no decision to be white.

ON WRONG TRACK

Dear Sir—Mr. Argyle is on the wrong track in condemning the Safety Council for trying to make motor vehicles safe. What we need is not less help from the police, but more. The authorities should come right out and say if we don't get our cars and trucks checked they'll be taken off the road! What's the use in driving a death trap?

The police should practice safety. Why not ban these stupid midnight road blocks and all drinking drivers?

Why don't the police stop all drinking around dance halls? All those people will be driving away in their cars and a drunk nut at the steering wheel is more dangerous than a loose one in the steering gear.

SCRIPTURAL MEDITATIONS

By AINSLEY BLAIR

God speaks to us through providential workings, and through the influence of his Spirit upon the heart. In our circumstances and surroundings, in the changes daily taking place around us, we may find precious lessons, if our hearts are but open to discern them. The palmist, tracing the work of God's providence, of the Lord. Who so is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord." (Ps. 107:43).

God speaks to us in his word. Here we have in clearer lines the revelation of his character, of his dealing with men, and the great work of redemption. Here is open before us the history of patriarchs and prophets and other holy men of old. They were men "subject to like passions as we are." (James 5:17.) We see how they struggled through discouragements like our own, how they fell under temptation as we have done, and yet took heart again and conquered through the grace of God: and beholding, we are encouraged in our striving after righteousness.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

Frightful Drink Toll

For any individual, the best solution to the drink problem is to leave the stuff strictly alone. One hundred per cent abstinence is the best cure for any of the multitude of drinking ills.

Potentially, one of every ten persons is an alcoholic. Sin, disease, violence and death are the product of excessive alcoholism. Like those unfortunates who trade respect and health for a few giddy hours of exhileration produced by drugs, the merely social drinker stands on the brink of an awful precipice every time he raises the glass to his lips.

The warden of San Quentin prison, writing in the Saturday Evening Post, states that 74 per cent of prisoners there were assisted in crime, conviction and incarceration by drink. Think of that! Three out of four crimes induced by liquor excesses!

Here in Alberta we see daily written the grim figures in accidents, crime and death. Ever see a prosperous farmer who spends all day in the beer parlor? Ever hear of a man who lost his job because he never got drunk? What highway accident happened because the drivers weren't drunk enough?

The government wallows in cash wealth produced by oil and liquor. But the liquor traffic's contribution to net revenues is an optical illusion. If the government would properly charge against liquor revenues the price paid in broken lives, crime, costly highway and other accidents, and the high tolls paid for what protection we do get against these evils, it would be seen that liquor revenue can never keep pace with the losses.

The Price of Price Control

The Canadian farmer has a problem that requires some pretty good thinking. He has the choice of asking the government to delve more and more into price control or to get out of it. There is no middle ground. Once government starts to control private business, it either goes deeper into it, or a change in party or policy forces an immediate turn-about-face.

With floor prices now for some farm products, and a free market for others, it is a cinch that no politician or bureaucrat is going to leave well enough alone. As the need arises, more farm prices will be protected with arbitrary "floors," until the whole farm economy will be one big government bureaucracy.

Right now, with limited control of some farm products, the government is buying up surplus production and storing it at government expense. Without actually controlling production, the only alternative would be disastrously fallen prices, with the small surplus further depressing markets.

Anyone who thinks that any government is going to keep on buying farm surpluses that have no market, just to maintain prices, had better start in thinking again. The price farmers will pay for price control will be production control, in event of any bumper harvest or economic recession.

Of course, that will be better than destroying our farm economy. Manufacturers of, let us say, tractors and combines don't produce more than they can reasonably expect to sell. But they are able to put self-controls on production, thus safeguarding their markets and prices.

By means of compulsory crop control, any government faced with the necessity of providing floor prices to farm products can also limit production and safeguard farm markets and prices.

Flood Time In Manitoba

By T. W. PUE

BRANDON—Some of us aren't too old—or too young — to remember a taunting phrase of thanksgiving expressed when a boy in khaki went by, "Thank God we've got a Navy." Between the two Great Wars we were prone to think the Navy—what there was of it—was plenty good enough for defense, as as for offense, we weren't having any, and the lads who trained in the Reserve Army were wasting our money and their time.

T. W. PUE

Since World War II we've grown up, with a mature attitude towards the problem of National Defense. Though our principal salvation in another global conflict is the U.S. Army and British and U.S. Navies, we still have to assist those outside forces in protecting us. In any future war Canada will find her geographical position more vulnerable than insular. But keeping an army in peacetime just in event of war which may never come, is expensive. Keeping the Army busily useful now is good business as well as good defense.

In the struggle against the dirty waters of the Red River, citizens of Winnipeg, St. Boniface, Morris and other southern Manitoba communities along the banks of the Red River have reason to say: "Thank God we've got an Army." Sure, the Navy is doing its bit—and the Air Force too. We should in truth, be thankful that we didn't throw our three defense forces on the scrap heap in August, 1945. The three services stand guard for Canada, in peace as well as in war.

The boys who are throwing up sandbags now against flood would, in an earlier generation be laying them topside of a parapet against fire and shell. Those same soldiers are learning the principles of discipline and devotion to duty which may, in a few years, call for the erection of some, as yet un-named defense against Atomic bombs.

Needed: More Army Training.

The young men leaving our schools today need the training the Army can give them. I would like to see every physically fit young Canadian get from one to three years Army training between the ages of 18 and 21 years. Trainees would receive instruction in scholastic subjects required to complete their education and instruction in practical subjects, designed to fit them for the practical, work-a-day world. Their knowledge and appreciation of our country would be widened by moving them about from one part of Canada to the other. Newfoundlanders and Quebecers would learn about westerners while training in Alberta, and Prairie dwellers would entrain for Eastern Provinces.

More emphasis on Army, Air Force and Navy training would make for a better nation in peace or war.

SNORING OBLIGATO

Walking down the street one morning, Willem Mengeliberg, the celebrated Dutch conductor, encountered a member of his orchestra.

"My, my, but you look prosperous!" Mengeliberg observed, "How do you manage it?"

"Oh, I'm a busy man," replied the musician. "Besides playing in the orchestra, I play in a quartet, give lessons and perform on the radio."

"Really," rejoined the conductor, "When do you sleep?"

"During the rehearsals," came the calm rejoinder.

Mounted Police Grapple With Widespread Narcotic Syndicate

By Raymond Argyle

Alarming growth in the increase in narcotics trafficking in Alberta, indicated in the increasing number of convictions under the Drug and Narcotics Act, has spurred RCMP into an all-out drive against offenders.

Grappling with what could be a nation-wide syndicate ,latest conviction in Edmonton courts came this week when Muriel Lee, attractive 22 year old Vancouver woman, was sentenced to two years in prison and a $300 fine or additional six months.

Arrested on a charge of illegal possession of drugs, the woman entered a plea of guilty, and admitted several previous convictions, including drug counts.

Cpl. Herb Silver, RCMP, told the court, presided over by Magistrate S. G. Main, that he and Detective Jack Langford, of the city police, arrested Mrs. Lee May 12 in an Edmonton hotel.

Cpl. Silver said the accused had one grain of heroin in her hand. An eye dropper and hypodermic also were found in her possession, he related.

Indication that she may be connected with a wide-spread narcotic syndicate is the fact that she had been associated with a gang of seven recently convicted in Vancouver courts for similar offences.

Their conviction was brought about when police seized a shipment of drugs bound for the gang from a Toronto group.

Such signs of illicit trade in all type of drugs from the lowly sleeping pill to the deadly, habit-forming masters, morphine, cocaine and opium, is worrying sociologists, educators, and law enforcement officers all over the nation.

There are about 4,000 known drug addicts in Canada. But even though drug addication has been on the increase since the late war, it has not yet reached such serious proportions as during the post World War I period.

The majority of confined drug addicts are professional criminals, though there are countless thousands of neurotics—some of them professional business men and women—who have turned to narcotics as an escape from their turbulent personal difficulties.

High cost of living has inflated prices in the illicit drug trade.

An ounce of adulterated heroin sells for about $500, and morphine is even more expensive, costing as much as $2,500 an ounce. Such drugs are usually sold to addicts by the grain, at a cost of about $1 for heroin, and $5 for morphine.

At these prices it costs most addicts $20 to $30 a day to satisfy their insistant craving. Whether the drug is taken into the body by means of the cigaret, the needle or the pill they almost invariably turn to crime to secure such large amounts of money.

At the present time almost nothing is done to imprisoned addicts to help them in throwing off their craving for the evil. In some cases they even manage to go on getting the drugs while in prison. And after they get out, after no matter how long a spell of imprisonment, they seem to almost always return to their old ways.

Create New Method To Deal With Predator Coyote

By NANCY COXFORD

MANNVILLE. — The Torrance brothers, Edwin and Leslie, drove out to the Sloan farm on Sunday with the intention of getting a shot at some coyotes which had been causing a disturbance on the farm. However, on arrival the coyotes were conspicuous by their absence, so they decided to investigate the coyote den.

They dug an opening into the den about ten feet deep, then lowered Edwin into the hole by a rope tied to his ankles. He came up with five baby coyotes.

They brought them back to town and some discussion arose as to their species. The pups have white feet and local experts say that coyotes do not have white feet. However, they all agree that they have never seen them so young, these didn't even have their eyes open, so they deem it possible that they change color at a later stage. They intend to settle the question by reference to higher authority this week.

"Simply Awful" It Reaction To Winnipeg Flood

By ROSE MARTEL

MORINVILE.— A Winnipeg family, victims of the rampaging flod waters of the Red and Assiniboine rivers, has arrived in this community north of Edmonton, after abandoning their home in the Manitoba capital.

Mrs. Eric Porter and her two children, Brooke, aged 3, and Erica, 5 months, arrived here last Friday. Her husband is an inspector in the RCMP and is presently stationed in Vancouver.

Mrs. Porter's home is located near the Maryland bridge on the banks of the Assiniboine river. When she left, the water was flooding her home. But with all the furniture and personal possessions stored in the top floor of the house, and Mrs. Porter hopes that the water will not rise above the main floor.

She has two cousins still in Winnipeg, who reside on the opposite side of the river. Mrs. Porter tok up residence in the city only last September.

When asked how it felt to witness the flood, she replied, "It's simply awful."

Another Winnipeg resident who is staying in Morinville is Mrs. J. F. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Conway.

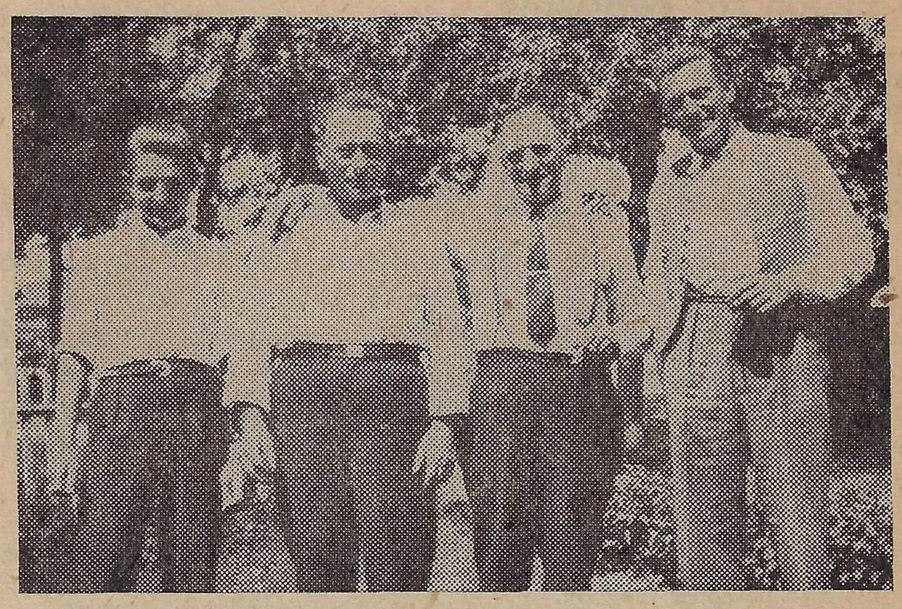

Northern Fires First of Season

First ground fires this spring were reported during the week-end to the Alberta forestry branch, govenment official said Monday.

The fires have broken out in the Lac la Biche area and about five men have been assigned to keep them under control.

Under new government regulations this year, farmers and settlers are not permitted to start any fires for brush clearing. In other years they were permitted to make application to the provincial government for special permits for burning privileges. These have been discontinued due to the extensive damage which resulted from such fires in the province last year.

These Albertans Must Cause Confusion

Siamese Twin Calfs Said Born Near Edmonton

By CONSTANCE REINER

ONOWAY. — Of all the freaks that nature has ever created, one of the most outstanding was brought to light here this week when Siamese twin calves were brought into the world by Dr. Angus Campbell, district veterinary surgeon.

Possessing two heads, one front quarter, two hind quarters, and eight legs, the calves, which were stillborn, had only one heart and one pair of lungs.

They were born to a cow owned by George Stephenson of Lac Ste. Anne.

Dr. Campbell was called to the Stephenson farm when it was realized the cow would have extreme difficulty in calving.

After an examination Dr. Campbell concluded that the cow would not be able to bear the calf normally. Having been running out all winter the cow was in poor condition to be operated on, and a decision was made to shoot the cow, even though it would also be fatal to the calf.

The strange offspring was then taken away.

Dr. Campbell asserts that if the operation could have been performed the calves would have been saved, making one of the greatest peculiarities ever known. He states he has heard of such deformities before, but in 20 years of practice he has never actually seen one.

Prophet Ranked As Greatest of Men

Hosea was a native of the Northern Kingdom, Israel, the only one of the prophetical writers from that section. While the Prophet Amos used the figures of the shepherd, Hosea used those of agricultural life. Amos looked upon the evidence of Jehovah's might and justice; Hosea upon fertile fields and tree-clad hills, which spoke to him of Jehovah's love and his gracious provision for his people's needs.

As pointed out last week, Hosea's message was inspired by his own personal tragedy.

"The first division of the Book narrates this sad experience, and illustrates one social ideal of Hosea, his conception of the sanctity of the marriage relation," says President William Bennett Bizzell.

"We are told that he was married to a young woman by the name of Gomer, the daughter of a certain Diblain. He probably procured his wife by purchase, which was in conformity to established custom. It is not improbable that the young wife possessed all the attributes that a high - minded young man would expect to find in the woman of his choice. But Hosea had not yet measured the seductive charm and the licentious practices that had gained headway in the religious ceremonies of the day, and he little dreamed how these rites were to fascinate his wife, and cause her to neglect her home and forget the obligations of her domestic ties."

"The wife abandoned her home. Her descent to degeneration and infamy was rapid," continues President Bizzell. "Her complete humiliation finally came—she was to be sold in the slave market. While she had sacrificed all right to his protection, still this man could not forget that she was his wife, and he went into the slave market and bought back this woman for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer and a half of barley. In defiance of established custom and public opinion, he restored her to his home and placed her under his loving protection."

Hosea was the prophet of salvation. He indorsed the protest of his predecessor, Amos, against mere formality in religion and one of his verses has been described as the greatest utterance of the Old Testament, namely, "I desire goodness and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings."

Concerning the Book of Hosea, Dr. George L. Petrie says, "Many of the more familiar verses of the Bible, verses that are like household words, often quoted and well known, are flowers culled from the charming garden of Hosea. Yet Hosea, as a book, is perhaps one of the least read of all the Bible Books. Open the Bible and see if Hosea's pages are not among the cleanest, and Hosea's leaves among the least worn with thumbing of them all. For this there is a reason. Hosea is perhaps the obscurest Book of all the Bible Books."

Notwithstanding Hosea's condemnation of the sins of Israel, he preaches divine mercy. "For I am God and not man and I will not come in wrath." And this golden close of the denunciations, this pointing to the resplendent arc of the rainbow of mercy amid the darkest bursts of storm, is the most marked characteristic not of Hosea only, but of Joel, Isaiah, Micah, and all the greatest of the true prophets.

They say that in the nature of things, there are irreconciliable antinomies — that is, laws apparently conflicting, apparently contradictory, which are equally true, thoroughly irreconciliable because their ultimate unity and reconciliation runs up into regions of infinitude beyond our feeble grasp," says F. W. Farrer.

What's in a Name Of a School?

In the past few weeks two teacher-inspired events in Alberta have gained international prominence. That's tremendous news and it's a great credit to Alberta teachers, particularly to the two teachers concerned.

In the whirl of publicity that has encircled Donna Henderson's rise to Canada's Cinderella Girl, and Gordon Feller's fame as the teacher who instituted Little Lake Success, a rather interesting observation has gone unnoticed.

Both schools which are the centers of this fame and prominence are named most appropriately for the events that haev made them famous. Donna Hendersan attends Good Hope School. Donna and her teacher Miss Isabel Smith, who entered her in the nation-wide contest, must have lived in "god hope" for many weeks while the judges in Toronto went through more than 8,000 entries before declaring Donna the Cinderella Girl of Canada. Their hopes and wishes certainly came true.

South-east of Red Deer is Loyalty School. Here social studies classes are conducted as a miniature United Nations Security Council. This procedure has gained international prominence and Loyalty School children and their teacher Gordon Fellow, will be heading for Lake Success in July. Mr. Fellows' purpose of teaching by this method is to more co-operation and world peace and loyalty among nations. Where is a beter place to begin such a movement but in a school by the name of 'Loyalty'?

Lawyer Scores Police Methods

A scathing denunciation of Edmonton police methods prohibiting solicitors from having private talks with prisoners was delivered in police court recently by barrister Walter Beaumont.

Mr. Beaumont's complaint to the court came during the case of a 19-year-old girl, arrested on a vagrancy charge. Mr. Beaumont appeared on her behalf.

The lawyers told of going to the city police station twice last week and each time being told he could not speak to his client unless the police matron was near enough to hear the conversation.

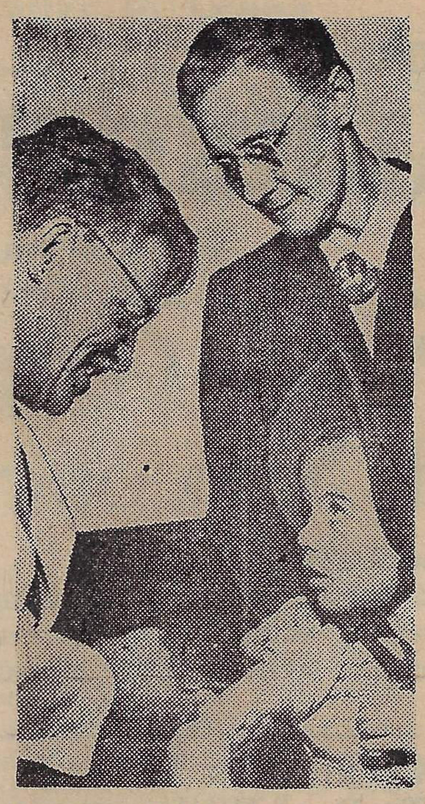

Chief Constable Reg Jennings saind the matter will be reviewed by the Attorney-General's department, as a result of an inquiry by Mr. Beaumont.

"Detective - Sergeant William Smith told me things were very bad, and that if the police couldn't hear both sides of a conversation between lawyer and prisoner, the chances of conviction are one in 500," Mr. Beaumont said. Sgt. Smith is head of the police morality squad.

Chief Jennings said the rule prohibiting private conversations exists for reasons of security. He explained police are responsible for prisoners, and must be extremely cautious.

Liberals Reported Gaining Ground

Mrs. C. H. Trapp, regional director of the Alberta Liberal Association, reports that organization is proceeding in her region. A club was formed at Bickerdike May 12. Officers are Roy Bromm, president; Mrs. Robson, vice-president; and Harry Wadley, secretary-treasurer. A whist drive was conducted after the business meeting.

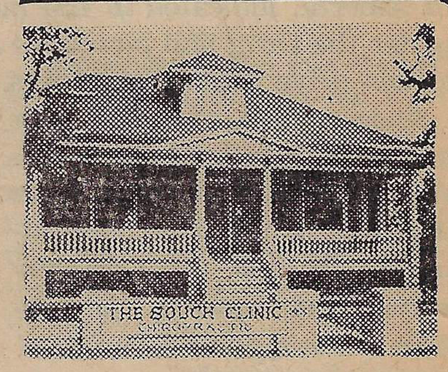

LITTLE GIRL shown here, a victim of the Manitoba flood disaster, is seen receiving an injection for typhoid protection. The province is fearing an epidemic of disease, as health protections and santiary services have been disrupted by the floods.

Personal income tax was unknown in Canada prior to 1917.

New Catholic Archbishop Consecrated

Monsignor Paul Emile Leger is seen approaching the altar before he was consecrated archbishop of Montreal in a solemn ceremony held in Rome... Presiding over the ceremony was Cardinal Piazza, who was assisted by the archbishop of Quebec, Maurice Roy, and Julien Weber, bishop of Strasbourg.

Ex-Convicts Need Aid, Rotary Club Is Told

George B. Henwood, district chairman of the John Howard Society, outlined the work of the organization, which assists ex-prisoners, at Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club in Strathcona Presbyterian church.

Mr. Henwood told of the growth of the society from its official organization in 1948. He talked on the basic aim of the society — the rehabilitation of dischargees from the penal institutions and jails. Much co-operation has been received from business firms in the matter of job placements, but a much greater degree of co-operation will have to be attained in order to discharge fully the society's program, he said.

Growth of the John Howard Society, said Mr. Henwood, was largely implemented by the Archambault report, officially considered in 1946 This report, the result of examinations of penal institutions in many parts of the world, actually had been completed just prior to the outbreak of the Second Great War, but was shelved during the conflict

Mr Henwood was introduced by Leroy Williams, chairman of the meeting.

SAM'S TWEED SUIT

If you're down around Mobile way and you spot a rooster strutting around in a smart tweed suit, don't take the pledge. It's only Sam, the featherless fowl, showing off his sartorial splendor.

When Sam was hatched some eight months ago, he didn't have any more feathers than a billiard ball. And Sam stayed that way. It was a miserable life, but finally Mrs. Anne Brown of Ontario, California, learned of Sam's distressing plight through an Associated Press wirephoto. Mrs. Brown thereupon wrote to Nick Hasselvander, Sam's owner, and generously offered to sew a wardrobe for the woebegone rooster. Hasselvander promptly sent Mrs. Brown Sam's measurements, specifying that Sam should be outfitted in something warm so that he can "saunter out to see something of the world."

Shivering Sam can hardly wait for his new tweed suit. That should be something really worth crowing about.

F.U.A. Membership Fast Increasing

An average 150 farmers per day, since March 1st, are becoming members of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, says Carl J. Stimpfle, president.

Mr. Stimpfle stated that the drive for new members throughout the province had been most gratifying and that at present the membership total in the FUA is more than 2,000 above the figure for the same date last year.

The drive, conducted by officials of the 900 olcal, is being intensified now to assure fullest possible representation of delegates at the district conventions scheduled for June and July, throughout the pro- that representation is determined vince. Mr. Stimpfle pointed out by the number of members in each local and that many locals are taking advantage of this situation to have fullest possible representation of delegates at the conventions.

First convention is scheduled for Hanna for June 14th, with delegates from District 11 attending. Other conventions scheduled are as follows: Olds for District 10, June 23rd; Stony Plain, District 5, June 24th; Ponoka, District 9, June 26th; Wainwright, District 7, July 4th; Camrose, District 8, July 5th; St. Paul, District 4, July 7th; Vegreville, District 6, July 15th; Athabasca, District 3, August 5th; Brooks, District 13, June 17.

Convention dates have not yet been specified for Districts 1, 2, 12, 14 and the B.C. block.

Mr. Stimpfle, FUA president, and Mrs. R. B. Gunn, FWUA president, are making plans to attend every district convention.

In 1948 there were 649,599 Canadians convicted of violations of traffic regulations.

Boys' Band Plays At Park Opening

Official opening of Elk Island National Park on Sunday, May 21st, featured the Edmonton Scholboys Band presenting an afternoon concert in the Band Shell to inaugerate the summer season of Sunday programs.

Fifty boys of the senior section of the band, under the direction of Bandmaster T. V. Newlove, presented selections ranging from Sousa and Von Suppe to novelties and boogie woogie. Some solo numbers were heard, and the band's majorettes were also on hand to show off their talented twirling routines.

This was the first of the 1950 summer series of Sunday afternoon concerts arranged by the Provincial Cultural Activities Branch, in co-operation with Park Superintendent B. I. Love and officials of the National Film Board. A number of vocal and instrumental groups from Edmonton and neighboring towns have made plans to take part. Concerts start around 3:30 p.m. and are open to all.

Alberta Sets Record For T.B. Seal Sales

Although it is Canada's fifth province in population, Alberta again established several Canadian records in the 1949-50 Christmas Seal sale, according to C. Robert Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association.

Alberta had the highest percentage increase in Canada, 14 per cent as compared to the Canadian average of 5 per cent. Alberta's seal sale committees also had the highest proportion of the population on their mailing lists.

Second highest per capita receipts were received in Alberta, 18½ cents. This was exceeded only by Newfoundland, with 19.7 cents per capita.

Newfoundland also was the only province to exceed Alberta in the proportion of letters returned with money.

Third highest dollar volume was raised by Alberta, beaten only by Ontario and Quebec.

Alberta's average contribution was $1.83, exceeded by only two other provinces, Saskatchewan and Ontario.

Mr. Dickey said, "We are very proud of the people of Alberta and of the seal sale committees, sponsored in Alberta by Rotary, Kinsmen and Lions clubs in various cities and towns. Most of the work is voluntary and we have no budget for advertising. The press and radio industries of Alberta give us the best support in all Canada, helping to keep our costs down to a record low."

Youths Cause Fracus In South Edmonton Pub

Two young men who gave a South Edmonton special constable a lot of trouble, paid the penalty in Magistrate Main's police court this week. The two, Thomas Marshall and John R. Ward, each were fined $15 and costs or 15 days in jail.

Special Const. Duff said the pair created a fracas in a South Side beer parlor, using abusive language, and refused to leave the beverage room when requested.

SDA's Raise $419 For Flood Fund

Saturday, May 13, was a very special day in the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Edmonton.

At the regular Sabbath morning service a baptism was conducted. Baptism by immersion, only for those old enough to comprehend the meaning of repentance and conversion, which rules out infant baptism, is believed in and practised by the church.

An offering was received for the Winnipeg Flood Fund amounting to $419, which will be added to as certain pledges are paid up. Besides this, several cases of good clothing and rubber boots have already been sent to the city of Winnipeg. More cases of clothing and more funds are expected in the next few days, Mr. Ainsley Blair, Pastor of the church said.

The music for the service was supplied by the fifty-voice robed choir of Canadian Union College, Lacombe, Alberta. The choir also rendered a concert of sacred music in the afternoon. Portions of John Stainer's "The Crucifixion" and George Handel's "The Messiah" were among the numbers presented. Conductor was Robert Scarr, L.R.A.M. Presiding at the piano was Miss Eva Carlill, A.T.C.M. The special speaker at the morning service was Don F. Neufeld, department of Biblical languages at the College.

The Canadian Union College Girls' chorus, under direction of Mrs. Ivan Crawford, will render a program of music on Saturday aftenoon, June 3, at 5:00 p.m. at the Seventh-day Adventist Church, corner 96th street and 109th avenue. Public is cordially invited.

Miracle of Migration Brings New Life to Once Hopeless DP's

Here is the heart-warming, reassuring story that the world waited ten years to hear, written by a man who was there.

By GEORGE MURRAY

NEW YORK. — The sun came out this afternoon. That was big news. The Queen Elizabeth and other ships which had been standing off under a blanket of fog for hours began to move into the harbor. One of the ships was the United States Army Transport General J. H. McRae, and for the 1,166 refugees aboard, the sun had come out in more ways than one.

As these displaced persons disembarked, their faces reflected hope for new homes and new opportunities in a land of the free.

Hundreds of relatives and friends crowded the pier to greet many of them, but there was a warm welcome for all the newcomers as they were met by representatives of the National Catholic Welfare Committee, American Joint Distribution Committee, Hebrew Immigration Aid Society, Church World Services, National Lutheran Committee, United States New Americans and other organizations. The representatives, distinguished by arm bands, would escort them to their sponsors in various parts of the United States.

But this was the happy ending of only one chapter in the story of the International Refugee Organization, largest of the specialized agencies of the United Nations, commonly known as IRO.

Operating a fleet of 36 ships, using chartered planes and special trains, IRO is directing the greatest peacetime migration in the history of humanity.

Of more than 8,00,000 displaced persons—Hitler's scrap heap of slave labor and racial and religious persecution, approximately 6,500,000 have returned to familiar surroundings to pick up their war-shattered lives. The remaining 1,500,000 were persons who, now on the other side of the "iron curtain" decided not to return to their respective homelands.

During the past two and a half years, since the Preparatory Commission of IRO took over the job of looking after refugees, about 950,000 have been aided by the IRO care and maintenance program, mainly in the DP camps. Of these, more than 750,000 have been resettled. The total of refugees assisted by IRO since July 1, 1947, is approximately 1,500,000.

In order to understand this problem, let us first ask ourselves "What is a DP, and how did the DP problem arise?"

During the nightmare years of the Second World War the population of towns and villages, cities and even provinces were torn from their homes and scattered. Some fled before the advancing Red army and Soviet system, while others were swept away by the brown tide of the Nazi flood to serve the German war machine as slave laborers. In other words, they were "displaced" from their homelands and became known as displaced persons or DPs for short, not to be confused with the German refugees who also streamed into the Western Zones of Germany in their thousands from East Prussia, Silesia, and Germany's other eastern provinces.

In concentration camps and slave labor camps amid the ruins of Hitler's Third Reich, in Austria and in Italy, 8,0000,000 DPs were found by the Allied armies. The problem was immense. These people had to be fed, clothed, housed, provided with medical care, administration, and legal protection, and all this was done in the early days by the Allied armies, and the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) financed by the United Nations. The emphasis in those days was on repatriation and while they waited their turn the the people continued to live in the old concentration camps, slave labor camps, army barracks and even in private houses, groups of which were formed into assembly centres.

For the most part they were only too keen to get home, especially those people from the western European countries, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Italy. Others, though by no means all, from Hungary, Jugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece and western Poland, had no qualms about returning. They had never experienced a Soviet occupation, and clamored for the home country.

By train, truck and even on foot they went. The highways were congested with masses of DPs straggling homewards. At the end of December 1945 the number repratriated stood at 5,500,000 but the rate was slowing down. It was already apparent that some had no desire to return under the conditions prevailing in their homelands.

Why would these persons not return? That is what Allied UNRRA officials were asking themselves with the advent of 1946.

For the answer, let us consider the Balts, citizens of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, and delve a little into their background story.

Lying midway between East and West, these Baltic states have had a turbulent history. From the earliest times they have resisted the German "drive to the east" and have acted as Europe's shield against Russia. For a hundred years before they gained their independence they chafed uneasily at the chains which bound them to Tzarist Russia. Then came the Bolshevik Revolution in October 1917 and the proclamation that the will of the people must decide the future of States, even to the point of separation from Russia. That offered the Balts the opportunity of realizing their long-cherished dream of freedom. It was not before that proclaimed freedom had been defended by force of arms and their determination had been sorely tested that independence did indeed become a fact. All three states achieved in 20-odd years a high standard of living and culture, comparable with only the most progressive of European countries, and proved themselves fit for freedom.

This happy era was brought to an abrupt close by the signing of the infamous "Ribbentrop-Molotov Pact" in 1939, when Hitler, to obtain a free hand against Poland, declared the Baltic states to belong to Russia's sphere of influence. In 1940 the Red army marched in, and framed elections backed by Red bayonets brought the "unanimous demand" from the Baltic states to be included in the USSR as Soviet Socialist Republics. Their incorporation into soviet Russia has never, to this day, been recognized by the United States of America or by Great Britain.

The Baltic peoples remained where they were almost to a man during the first soviet occupation of 1940-41, also during the later German occupation. They had nowhere else to go for one thing, and had no idea of the real nature of the impending changes. They were therefore very favorably placed to observe the process of the soviet-isation of their homelands, and are in a position now, having fled their countries in 1944, to give a detailed account of what went on in every sphere of life under the soviet domination. They all testify that only by such excesses as terror, concentration camps, typhus, scurvy, starvation and forced collectivisation, only by renewing such medieval processes as inquisition carried out by the dreaded MVD, only by the absolute suppression of all liberty, turning the population into unthinking cogs in the agricultural or industrial machine, was the USSR able to realize its experiments in the Baltic states.

Propose Plan of Action To Combat Any Depression

The International Labor Office has made public a long-range survey of world unemployment conditions and its program to avoid another depression.

The ILO economists, in a study prepared for debate by the worker, employer and government delegates of 60 nations at its general conference opening in Geneva, June 7, warned against certain signs pointing to a possible increase in unemployment.

They declared, however, that depression can be avoided by means of prompt and adequate international and national action. They said:

"The recognition that unemployment and underemployment are social evils which can be eradicated represents a landmark in the thinking of modern times. No longer is there a passive acceptance of the inevitability of unemployment and poverty."

The ILO economists warned that the maintenance of full employment "is no easy task." Concerning the present world situation, they found:

1. "In the United States the rise in unemployment in 1949 was due mainly to the liquidation of inventories held by manufacturers and wholesale dealers.

2. "In the Bizone area of Germany, a major factor responsible for the upward trend of unemployment in 1949 was the rapid increase in the labor force consequent upon the large-scale influx of refugees.

3. "The unemployment problem in Italy is, to a large extent, of a chronic character, originating primarily in the lack of employment opportunities in southern Italy. The main solution to this problem lies in the acceleration of capital formation so that the idle workers can have the necessary physical equipment with which to work and to produce.

4. "The increase in unemployment in Belgium in 1949 can be ascribed, to a large extent, to the increasing sales difficulties experienced in the export industries.

5. "While, with the exceptions noted above, the great majority of the industrial countries in 1949 experienced low unemployment and utilized manpower more fully than before the war, the employment problem in the underdeveloped countries remains as serious a problem as it was before the war."

In summarizing the ILO experts declared:

"A first line of international action to help to solve the problem of unemployment in the underdeveloped countries is to expand the flow of long-term capital from the advanced industrial countries to underdeveloped countries for purposes of economic development.

"A second line is for the adavnced industrial countries to put their accumulated technical knowledge and experience at the disposal of the underdeveloped countries. International action in this vital field has now begun to take concrete shape in the form of President Truman's Four-Point Program and the United Nations expanded program of technical assistance.

"A third line of international action lies in the field of international migration.

"Exchange of international experience regarding methods of improving employment services and of organizing training and vocational guidance and the provision of technical assistance from one country to another could do much to reduce the volume of frictional unemployment in countries which lack experience in the organization of the employment market. In this field the ILO has accumulated a great deal of experience, and is ready to offer technical assistance to countries in need of such assistance."

THE CELLAR STAIRS

The cellar stairs are a common scene of accidents in the home. You can make your cellar stairs safer by making sure the lighting is adequate and that a handrail is provided. Then all that is necessary is a concentrated course in "safety first" for children and adults alike.

Liberal Group Urges Women Named To Senate

Several resolutions to be forwarded to the annual meeting of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada being held in Ottawa June 9 and 10, were passed at a meeting of the Edmonton Women's Liberal Club held in the Y.W.C.A. recently.

Since Prime Minister St. Laurent, in his speech to the women of Canada urged more participation by women in political affairs, and since women compose fully 50 per cent of the adult population and have proved themselves capable in business, home building and citizenship training, the resolutions called on the prime minister as head of the government of Canada to recognize this status by setting the example in appointing more women to public office, and giving representation in the senate of at least one woman in each province.

Other resolutions dealt with pensions for incurables, radio programs, health and welfare, and food surpluses.

Mrs. F. J. Conroy, president, will attend the Ottawa convention in her capacity as dominion regional vice-president, and Mrs. W. Philion as delegate fro mthe club.

Mrs. Conroy led a discussion on the health plan as outlined by Hon. Paul Martin, minister of health and welfare. A survey of health facilities was made before the construction of new hospitals, and the sum og $448,000 has been given by the dominion government to the Aberhart Memorial hospital, she said. Mrs. Conroy gave a resume of money and securities a person may possess while receiving the old age pension. There are 293,000 old age pensioners in Canada, to whom $30 monthly is contributed by the dominion government. The provincial governments of British Columbia and Alberta add $10 per month to this, and an additional bonus of $10, making $50 per month in all.

Tribute was paid to a charter member of the club, the late Miss Jean Boyle.

20th Century FARM NEWS

Seeding Later Than Usual In Alberta

General agricultural conditions in Alberta range from only fair to poor, with seeding generally later than last year, according to the United Grain Growers Ltd. crop report for the week ended May 11. No crop damage was reported from any section of the province.

EAST AND SOUTH AHEAD

Seeding in the east half of Alberta from Calgary south was 70 per cent completed at week's end. Weather had been clear and mild. Surface moisture was reported to be good, but reserve moisture only fair. In the west half of the district similar moisture conditions were observed, but only 40 per cent of the seeding was completed.

From Calgary to Olds, east to Saskatchewan and west to the foothills, 60 per cent of the wheat and 20 per cent of the coarse grain was seeded. Surface moisture conditions are reported better than last year. Western half of the district from Olds to Wetaskiwin reported 50 per cent of the wheat seeded. Only five per cent of the seeding was done in the eastern half.

Soil drifting had been reported from some stations in the district from Camrose north to Lac la Biche and east to the border. General conditions were described as poor, with a good general rain badly needed. Farmers were showing a tendency to delay seeding until weed seeds were well started. In the western half of the district moisture conditions were slightly better and seeding averaged about 30 per cent completed.

SOME ONLY STARTED

Seeding was only started in the Peace River territory, but was expected to be general this week. General conditions were reported as fair ,with moisture conditions about average.

War Starts On Grasshoppers

The war on grasshoppers is underway. Seventy-five mixing stations and distributing points which served Alberta farmers in 1949 will again be in operation, and more stations may be opened in the Lomand and other areas where heavy infestation is expected.

W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection, says that although proper cultural practice remains the most important factor in grasshopper control. Chlordane and the new insecticide Aldrin will also pay an active part in the grasshopper campaign this year. The Alberta Department of Agriculture will make these materials available to farmers through their municipalities. Both spray and dust forms may be obtained. If spraying is done before hoppers have grown too large, sprays should not cost the farmer more than 35c per acre, advises Mr. Lobay. No arsenic or fluosilicate will be used this year. All baits will be prepared with Chlordane.

Last year, in spite of the heavy hatch, very little damage was done to grain because of the timely controls applied. "With our past experience we should be able to save all the crops this year," says Mr. Lobay. He warns, however, that effective hopper control can be obtained only if everyone does his part. "Let's join hands now," he urges, "and wipe out the hoppers in Alberta. With the weapons we have, it can be done."

Young People's Conference

The annual Young People's Conference will be put on this year from June 1st to June 9th. Nine days are packed with lectures, competitions, recreation, etc. Here is a chance for farm boys and girls to spend a holiday at the University of Alberta. The cost is $22.00 for everything. Application forms are available from my office.

Fast Milking

The following was copied from "Electricity on the Farm." "It takes David 1 hour and 10 minutes to milk 25 cows." This works out to less than 3 minutes per cow. Farmers doing hand milking cannot compete with modern milking machines, handy stalls and milk houses.

Soil Drifting

Last Friday when the 30-mile wind was blowing I travelled 80 miles around by district. A lot of good soil was blowing away from farm land—never to come back. The worst blowing was from a field plowed last fall which left no trash cover to check the wind damage The best field had been cultivated last fall with a blade weeder. Think it over, folks.

Dry Surface Soil

It is a well known fact that any soil will blow if the land is dry enough and the wind is strong enough. Last Friday the wind was not very strong but the drifting was going on. In travelling 80 miles I did not see anyone doing Throw out straw or manure, but do anything about it. Use any implements cross ways to the wind. something.

First Stone Picker

When we talk about blade weeders, the first question asked, "Will they work in stony ground." One farmer near Mannville turned out so many stones that he had to buy a stone picker to clear his land of rocks.

Safety First

If everyone tries hard, we can get through the summer without any farm accidents. It is agreed that most accidents are a result of carelessness. Being careless and lazy is about one and the same thing.

Seeding Forage Crops

Today, with forage crop seed prices at unusually high levels, care in seeding grass and legume crops is of the greatest importance. Mr. J. E. Birdsall, Supervisor, Crop Improvement Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture, has recently listed a few important rules which, if followed, will avoid failure in securing satisfactory stands of forage crops. These are as follows:

Seed Quality. Use only high quality "graded" seed of proved germination. The seed you sow should be pure as to variety and free from objectionable weed seeds If at all possible purchase Registered and Certified seed. If seed of this quality is not available use good Graded No. 1 Commercial seed Don't buy "ungraded" seed.

Soil Conditions Important. Moist soil is essential. If the soil is dry do not sow your grass and legume seeds. According to Mr. Birdsall, attempting to reach moisture through "deep seeding" or "taking a chance on rain occurring within a few days" are good ways of wasting expensive forage crop seed.

A very firm seed bed is absolutely essential for good germination of forage crop seeds, and no factor is more important than shallow seeding. Legume and small grass seeds should not be seeded more than one-half inch deep and larger grass seeds, such as Brome, not more than one inch deep.

Nurse Crops. In dry areas a nurse (companion) crop should not be seeded with forage crops. Where soil moisture conditions are favorable a nurse crop may be used providing it is chosen with care and seeded at a light rate. An early maturing variety of barley such as Olli, seeded at not more than one bushel per acre, will prove highly satisfactory for this purpose.

Seed Inoculation. All legume seed should be inoculated. Present day seed inoculants are cheap and easy to apply. However, be sure and buy an inoculant that has been prepared for use in 1950 Check the date on the container

For further information on seeding forage crops see your Agricultural Representative, or write to your Field Crops Branch, Department of Agriculture, Winnipeg, Regina or Edmonton.

New Breed Hogs Said Healthier

The statistics branch of the Department of agricutulre have estimated that of 4,952,900 pigs born June to November, 1949, only 4,199,100 were saved. In that period 753,800 pigs died before they reached market weight. That is a tremendous loss which most people contribute to bad luck, bad weather and bad management.

Those factors have a great bearing on pig losses but here are some facts worth considering:

1. The rate of maturity, year by year, of Ontario hogs is not improving.

2. It is becoming more difficult to raise healthy, vigorous pigs to the age of 12 weeks.

3. There is a great deal of unthriftiness in just weaned pigs.

George Robson, manager of the Shur-Gain Farm at Weston, Ontario, thinks that a good deal of the heavy loss sustained by Yorkshire breeders during the first 12 weeks of a pig's life can be greatly reduced by introducing some large white English Yorkshire blood into Canadian Yorkshires, thereby developing what amounts to hybrid vigor.

Mr. Robson feels that Canadian Yorkshires have lost a certain amount of vigor and liveability due to the fact that there has been very little new blood introduced into the breed recently. A few years ago George Robson brought one large white English Yorkshire gilt to the Shur-Gain Farm. This sow has crossed very well with a Canadian Yorkshire boar and produced pigs which have demonstrated a greater ability to grow than Canadian Yorkshires. With this in mind Mr. Robson took a trip to England and Scotland this spring and purchased 16 large white gilts and three large white boars from some of the top breeders in England for importation to the Shur-Gain demonstration farm.

New Artery For Oil Stretches Across Plains

Soon Canada will have one of the great oil pipe lines of the world. It will span a third of the continent and link the western oil fields with the east.

Since construction started, public interest in the project has reached a new high. In response to that interest this article has been written to tell the story of Canada's new artery for oil.

Why a Pipe Line?

Taking goods to market by the shortest and least expensive means is sound economics in any branch of commerce. That applies as much to crude oil as it does to wheat or boots and shoes.

A high-pressure pipe line meets these requirements better than any other type of transportation, when movement of a liquid, such as crude oil, is involved.

The pipe line will mean western oil can enter Ontario and still meet prices now paid for oil imported from the U.S. and South America. It will mean western producers can reach those markets and still receive adequate returns for their output at the well-head.

The pipe line will be the efficient, economical means of distributing oil to those who need it but who live far from nature's sources of supply.

Who Will Own the Pipeline?

Ownership of International Pipe Line Company will be divided as follows:

42% owned by the public;

33% owned by Imperial Oil Limited;

25% owned by other Canadian oil companies and private interests.

Lakehead Pipe Line Company, Inc., as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Interprovincial, will own and operate the 360 miles of pipe line in the United States and the terminal at Superior.

The line will operate as a common carrier, moving crude for any producer who meets standard regulations.

What Will the Pipe Line Handle?

The pipe line's traffic will be provided by western Canadian crude oil destined for Canadian refiners between the new oil fields and the Sarnia, Ontario, area.

Initial rate of flow will be 95,000 barrels a day from Edmonton to Regina, and 70,000 barrels a day east of Regina.

Addition of more pumping equipment when crude production warrants will increase the capacity out of Edmonton to about 130,000 barrels a day. These intermediate pumping stations will not be built immediately.

How the Line Is Built

Specialists and specialized equipment are needed on a construction project such as this. Nine groups of these experts and the unique tools of their trade are at work on nine separate sections of the line between Edmonton and the Great Lakes.

Each unit or spread is progressing about one mile a day. Six Canadian spreads are working westward and three spreads in the U.S. are working eastward.

Work which visitors to spreads see today was in the planning stage for more than two years.

An aerial survey was made of the entire routs. Surveyors walked the route staking the exact right-of-way. Land agents negotiated with more than 2,500 land owners to obtain written permission for construction across their fields.

Thousands of plans and specifications were prepared by engineers for the line, the intricate control mechanisms and the six pumping stations which will keep the oil moving through the line.

Ahead of construction crews now at work, advance parties cut fances and install gates at every field.

Stringers place the 40-foot joints of pipe on the ground ready for welding.

Big diggers cut a trench five feet and 30 inches wide. Welders link the joints into a continuous tube and befort it is lowered into the ditch a tarring and wrapping machine does its job on the cleaned and welded pipe.

Bulldozers backfill the trench and on cultivated land the ditch is tamped and left level. Thus normal farm operations can be resumed over the right-of-way immediately after the final clean-up crews leave the loaction.

The Pipe Liner's Jargon

Don't be disturbed by the pipe liner's strange language when he speaks of:

Boom Cat—A caterpillar tractor with a boom for lifting and moving heavy pipe.

Cherry Picker—Like a boom cat with a swinging movable boom.

Pig—A circular, bladed instrument drawn through pipe to clean it.

Dope Pot—A large kettle to heat the coal-tar enamel pipe coating.

Pipe Cradle—A travelling dolly on wheels moving under pipe ahead of coating and wrapping equipment.

Digger—A big, circular trenching machine to dig a pipe line ditch.

Night Cap—A small steel cover welded to open pipe ends at the close of each work day to keep line interiors clean.

Stringer Bead—The first tack weld made as pipe joints are lined up.

Spread—A complete construction unit, embracing all machinery and crews.

Kick-off Point—Where a spread started operations on the line.

Some Facts and Figures

The main line will cost an estimated $90,000,000; the Redwater extension an additonal $2,500,000.

About 178,000 tons of high-test steel will be used for pipe—enough to make 118,000 average-sized motor cars.

It will take about 26 days for a barrel of oil to move from Edmonton to Superior.

Cutting the trench in which to bury the line will mean excavating more than 2,250,000 cubic yards of earth.

Building 1,180 miles of pipe line in 150 days is the fastest work schedule ever set for a project of this size.

About 5,500 railway carloads of pipe and equipment will be moved thousands of miles before the line is completed.

Storage tanks at Edmonton and Superior are more than 140 feet in diameter—bigger than the diamond of a major baseball park.

The two largest tanker s ever built in Canada, now under construction, will carry crude from Superior to refineries in the Sarnia, Ontario, area.

What the Pipe Line Means To Canada

Every barrel of oil produced in Canada and used by Canadians means a barrel less to be imported and paid for in U.S. dollars. The completed line will mean immediate and substantial increases in crude oil output from Alberta oil fields .That increased production will go to Canadian refineries resulting in fewer imports to meet their requirements.

It is estimated that completed pipe line will improve Canada's dollar exchange position by $130,000,000 in 1951. As the line's volume increases and import needs decrease, so will the saving of U.S. dollars become greater.

Increasing the output from the oil fields will mean more revenue to the producers. Most of this will find its way into the economy of the area with benefits to many communities.

The Alberta government owns 93% of the sub-surface mineral rights in the province, and receives most of the royalties from oil production, Increasing field production will mean greatly increased royalty payments to the province. They are already calculated in millions. All Albertans will benefit from their governments healthy financial position.

New refineries will be built in western Canada and existing plants will increase capacities when oil flows through the line. Construction has started on one new plant; plans are progressing to the industrial life of the west.

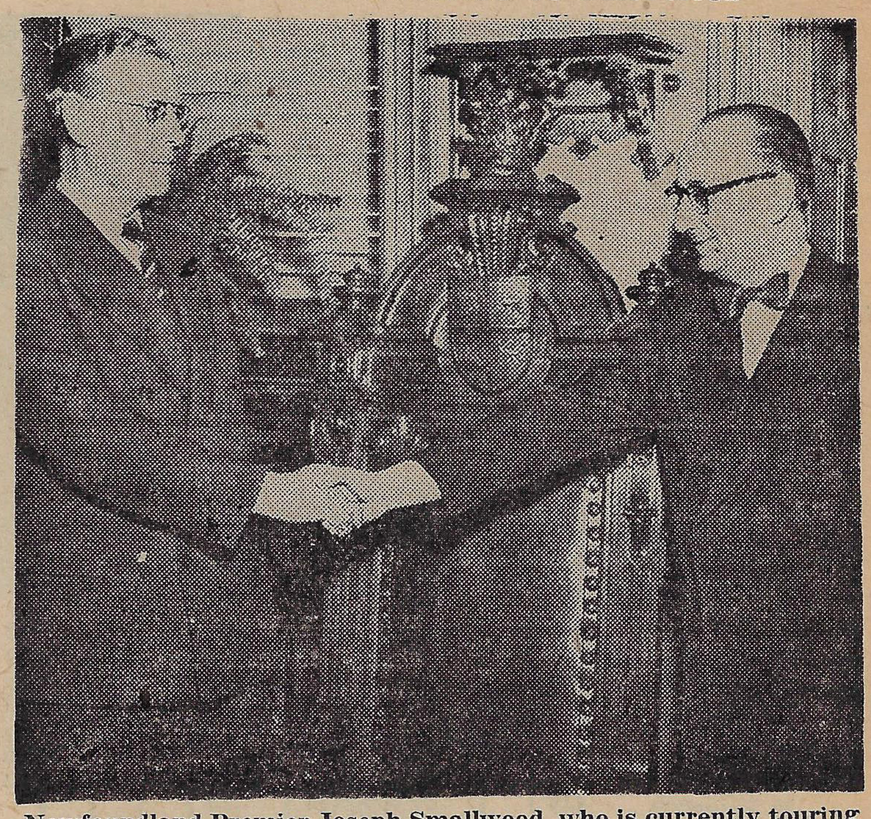

More and bigger refineries will produce more petroleum products for Canadians. Chaeper transportation could mean lower prices on finished products, benefiting all consumers.

All these influences will reflect favorably on the economy of the country as a whole, with completion of the new artery for oil.

Women's Club Marks Twentieth Anniversary

EDMONTON. — The 20th Century Women's Liberal Club celebrated its 20th anniversary on May 15th with a Chinese dinner at the home of Mrs. Mel Taylor. Several charter members of the club were present, and the birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Jas. Wallbridge, first president of the club. Mr. Prowse spoke briefly to the group, as did Mr. Nelles Buchanan, treasurer of the Alberta Liberal Association. The party was a huge success and several new members joined. Telegrams of congratulations were received from the Honourable James A. MacKinnon and Mr. Geo. Prud ham, M.P. for Edmonton West.

From One Province to Another

Newfoundland Premier Joseph Smallwood, who is currently touring Alberta, shakes hands with Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario at the presentation of the Speaker's chair to the Newfoundland legislature. The chair, used for one season in the Ontario legisalture, was given on behalf of the people of Ontario.

Highland Games To Be Best Ever

Highland dancers and pipers are expected in South Edmonton from across Canada for the annual Highland Games to be held at the South Side athletic grounds July 1.

At a preliminary executive meeting in the Kingsway Legion Monday night, officers of the association reported a bigger turnout than ever before is expected this year. In addition, the athletic committee promises a program and prizes which will maintain the field and track section's position as one of the best in Canada.

The committee is headed by Chieftain Tom Campbell, President Jack H. Campbell, Secretary Hector Macrae, and Vice-presidents A. Maclennan and D. Barclay. Jack Riley of the recreation commission is in charge of athletic events and Arthur Miller, piping and dancing.

Events which will be held again this year include the heavyweight tug-of-war contest, tossing the caber, discus and pavelin throws, throwing the weight, and long distance bicycle races.

The Scottish section of the program is being augmented and the committee reported much interest from Scotland during the past year. is being shown by hundreds of newcomers who have arrived here

Good Health for ALBERTANS

DANGERS TO SIGHT

Accidents involving the eyes are among those most frequently found in industry and by far the majority of these accidents are caused by flying particles. Most eye accidents of this type are preventable and would not occur if workers were provided with and required to wear safety goggles and other safety equipment.

SAFETY AT CAMP

Going camping this summer? If you are, the chances are the milk you buy will not be pasteurized. Ray milk may often carry disease germs that can cause serious illness. Take no chances with your milk supply. It can be pasteurized easily and quickly at the camp. Your local health department will be glad to instruct you in this matter.

SLEEP AND HEALTH

Dancing until dawn may be romantic but when it means two hours sleep before a heavy day, it loses some of its glamor. Eevryone, regardless of age,, needs an adequate amount of sleep to stay healthy. Most of us need an average of eight hours a day. It's wise to time late-night parties for the week-end when the following day's activities may not be so pressing.

DON'T BE FOOLED

Quacks and frauds find cancer patients among the easiest victims available. Don't be taken in by unscrupulous characters who are willing to sacrifice your life to make a dishonest dollar. If you suspect you may have cancer, see a qualified medical doctor at once. No amount of pills, salves or lotions can cure cancer and many of them are actually harmful. Treated early by a competent doctor, many cancers can be cured.

FOR HEALTHY TEETH

Scientific reasearch has discovered methods whereby it is hoped a large percentage of dental decay will be eliminated. But until these new methods have been thoroughly tested and brought into widespread use, one of the best methods of maintaining good dental health is the regular use of the toothbrush. Twice-yearly visits to the dentist are also a "must" for good dental health.

Letter to Louisa

Girl Says She Loves Boy More Than He Loves Her

Dear Louisa:

I am madly in love with a boy. He has won my heart forever but I don't think he loves me more than one half as much as I love him. Please tell me how I can get him to love me a little more than he does.

Louisa, another thing I want to ask you. I am almost sixteen and my parents are sort of old-fashioned. They seem not to want me to go to the movies with a boy after dark. I always have to be home at six o'clock although the boys I go with are nice. In fact I have never have been out with a boy after dark and that is worrisome. Tell me if you think it is all right to be out until 10:30 or 11 o'clock

H. V.

Answer:

The time you get in at night depends to a large extent on the kind of girl you are, the kind of boys you go with and the kind of community you live in.

If you are a level-headed girl, who knows right from wrong and how to behave herself and if the boys you go with are not much older than you and have good reputations, I see no objection to your parents letting you go to the movies in the evening, during the week-end.

Of course, that depends, too, on how far away the movies are from your home. If they are a good many miles, I think it would be wise for you to go with another couple but if they are just a few blocks and not through a rough district, I see no reason why you shouldn't go alone with a boy.

However, if your parents object, it is better to obey them than to sneak out. The girls who meets boys on the street corner cheapens herself and fails to have the respect of her boy friends.

As to telling you how you can make this boy love you more than he does, I am sorry to say that I cannot tell you. Love is something that cannot be forced and very often a girl loses her boy friend by pursuing him too openly.

In other words, don't let him know you are after him! You are very young and will probably be "madly" in love several time before the real one comes along.

LOUISA.

Another girl writes that the boy she has fallen for and has been going steady with for eight months is also taking another girl out. She wishes to know whether she should make him understand that she won't stand for such treatment or just call the whole thing off.

As she is in high school and rather youn, I think she would be wise to tell this boy that if he doesn't care to go steady, both of them will date other people.

Certainly it is not fair for her to refuse other dates when he goes out with another girl.

LOUISA.

Hylo News Briefs

HYLO—Hylo Ladies' Society met on May 7 at the home of Mrs. Elda Keehn and discussions in preparation of the annual Hylo picnic were opened.

The date was set for June 11 with plenty of exciting events on the slate as usual.

A permanent booth plan for the sports grounds was decided upon and Mr. C. R. Keehn and Mr. Alex Lozinski will construct it.

Tenders for grounds fencing were posted again.

The evening ended in a tasty lunch served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Grandish and family motored to Smoky Lake on Sunday morning, May 7, to spend the day with all their kin.

Residents who have been business visitors to Edmonton include Messrs. Nick Mohowich, Pasquale Manca, Wm. Kuwica and Ed Kucille. Norman Kennedy went in with Dick Meardi with a truck load of stock.

Mr. Ray Manca has been seen streaking around with a Ford limousine.

On May 14 Mr. Bill Kaduk paid his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kaduk a visit.

The Misericordia Altar Society met at the church on May 14 to set plans about interior painting of the church.

Messrs. Joe Michetti and A. Marini have worked constantly until now they have built the entrance, belfrey tower and steeple.

Mr. Pete Farion and Mr. Ed. Kucille have wrought the cross and everything is in readiness for erection. However the late winds have held up completion of the project which has been undertaken in preparation for blessing and dedication ceremonies which will take place some time in June.

It is understood that both Mr. Mike and Mr. Metro Kaduk have arrived at Hylo to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kaduk, for a while.

The Hylo Ladies' Society met at Mrs. Eva Lozinski's and no tenders were received for sport grounds fencing, so the ladies decided to stage a fencing day May 28. Everyone is welcomed to the Hylo sports grounds immediately after morning mass, equipped with suitable tools and the ladies will serve lunch out on the picnic grounds. It is urgent that the fencing be completed before the picnic day.

The next Ladies' Society meeting was set for June 1 at the home of Mrs. Mary Grandish. Work committees for the picnic will be elected.

The hostess ended the evening with a delicious lunch of hot chicken sandwiches which prepared the ladies for their trips home in the chilly, rainy night.

The date for Girls' Club work achievement day is May 30, at the Hylo classroom. A banquet will be held at about 6 p.m. The judging and dress parade will take place during the afternoon. Miss Curran from the School of Agriculture at Vermilion will be presiding judge. Everyone is welcome.

At this time the Junior Grain Club will meet with Mr. Godel, district agriculturist for Athabasca.

Mr. Wilf Inkster's children, who drive an otherwise quiet horse, had a bad spill the other day. The old horse apparently became frightened of the tractor motor when Diana and May Inkster with Florence Powder were on their way home from school. Diana fell out of the buggy head first. May jumped out, while Florence was dragged for a distance because a line had wrapped itself around her hand. The silly horse nearly ran over Lynda Inkster who always runs out to meet the girls, while it continued its flight home. Neither of the girls were badly hurt.

Mrs. Mary Keehn, Lynn, Doreen Giacoba, and Gloria Biollo visited Mrs. Elda Keehn and famil on Thursday afternoon.

"Black Light" is a phrase used to describe infrared or ultraviolet radiation.

GOODFISH LAKE BRIEFS

GOODFISH LAKE.—The Goodfish Lake day school has been operating since the middle of February under a qualified teacher, Mrs. A. C. Hughes, BA, who came from a two-year term as welfare teacher at Miller Bay Indian hospital, Prince Rupert, B.C. Schools are now operating in Indian hospitals so that children suffering from tuberculosis and other diseases may not miss their chance at an education.

Twenty-nine children are enrolled, 20 of whom are in the school for the first time. There is accommodation for 40. The school is a commodious building of brick siding, one side entirely windows, and every window provided with screen for summer and storm windows for winter. Even in the coldest weather the attendance was good, despite the wave of influenze which visited the community.

A well-equipped dispensary also operates under Miss K. Potter who came here from Saddle Lake Nursing Station. A well-furnished and comfortable residence on the premises houses the two ladies in charge. Everything possible is being done for the health and walfere of the residents of the reserve, and it is hoped they will conform to the time schedule of both school and dispensary, except in emergencies.

Chief Reuben was taken to Vilna hospital suffering from the effects of influenza. The community will hope for his eary recovery.

Mrs. Marcus Sparkling Eyes has returned from Vilna hospital with her young son, the newest citizen of Goodfish Lake. Our best wishes will follow this young man and we extend our congratulations to his parents.

Three old and respected residents of this community succumbed to the prevalent 'flu this winter, Mrs. Peggy Cardinal, Mrs. Norman Hunter and Mrs. Margaret Breast. Our sympathy is extend d to the families.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson passed away this month also. We extend to the parents our deep sympathy.

Miss Burgess of the Saddle Lake Nursing Station paid our school a professional visit for the second time this spring. Our children take the "needles" with a smile from Miss Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Camire, accompanied by Mrs. Bartling, school supervisor, all of Saddle Lake, paid our school a visit recently.

A gift of sparkling well water came to our school residence from Mr. Sam Bull, which was indeed appreciated by the occupants.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Grecko have moved into their home they purchased at Egremont.

Modern New Hardware Store Serves Oil Fields

REDWATER. — Redwater and district are fortunate in having at their disposal and service a new, fully modern Marshall-Wells hardware store. This store opens to the public for their convenience and service about May 18.

The store is owned and managed by Lloyd Lesnik, who has had 25 years experience in the hardware business, having operated a hardware store of his own. He has also been manager of the paint department at Munro's in Edmonton. Mr. Lesnik is a good mixer and community minded. He intends to bring to the people of Redwater and district hardware and appliances at city prices.

The set-up is unique in merchandising insofar that a mass group of independent hardware dealers are banded together under the guidance of Marshall-Wells company so that the purchasing power of all of these dealers and the company are able to give high tpo quality hardware and appliances at fair prices to the public everywhere.

The Marshall-Wells store at Redwater is set up in a manner to emphasize the modern method of displaying and selling all manner of hardware. Every section in the store and all articles are so displayed as to give all possible view at a glance to a prospective purchaser.

Everything has its own proper place and is easily accessible so that no time is lost in having to search for various individual types of certain articles.

While the interior of the store is very modern, the store front will also be very imposing. The name of the firm will stand out in dark lettering against a light background. Windows are wide, permitting a full view of the store interior from the street.

Redwater is in the heart of Canada's largest oilfield, whose limits have not to this date been ascertained. Many visitors from all over the North American continent and Europe have passed through Redwater and many more are expected in the future.

With the hoped-for gravelled streets, good water and gas and such modern stores as Marshall-Wells, which has just been completed to serve the community, Redwater stands in the forefront of modern and prosperous districts in Alberta.
